DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim(s) 19, 20, 21 and 22 are objected to because of the following informalities:
line 3 "the group" is lack of antecedent basis. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claim(s) 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cohn et al (US 6,411,684 B1) in view of Bourgeois et al. (US 6,108,534).

Regarding claim(s) 19, 20, 21 and 22, Cohn discloses a method for providing unified messaging (FIG. 1 and column 1, lines 19-23), comprising:

storing a plurality of input messages directed to a user, each input message being of a particular type selected from the group consisting of a voice message, a text message, and an image, wherein the input messages further identify different user destinations (column 8, lines 1-13);

determining the type of each input message (column 8, lines 51-62); and assigning an identifier for each input message based on the determined message type (column 8, lines 51-62).

Cohn discloses a network based multimedia communications but fail to disclose displaying a view of the input messages.

However, Bourgeois teaches displaying a view of the input messages, the view including information identifying and the assigned identifier for each input message (column 6, lines 33-50);

providing in the displayed view at least one icon associated with one of the input message types that, when selected, eliminates from the view all of the input messages except those associated with the input message type of the icon (column 6, lines 42-50); receiving a signal indicating a selection to view messages identifying a particular user destination (column 6, lines 51-61); and modifying the view of the input messages based on the received signal (column 6, lines 51-61).

It would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention of Cohn using the teaching of the display unit as taught by Bourgeois.

This modification would enable the system to display a view of the input messages so that the user would have the advantage to select the message to be played.

Regarding claim(s) 23, Cohn in combination with Bourgeois disclose all the limitations of claim(s) 23 as stated in claim(s) 1' s rejection above and furthermore Bourgeois teaches the method perform by a processor (16 on FIG. 1).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim(s) 19-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
